

Dave and Kelly Keim of Berne, Indiana, along with their twin 'snowflake' children Caroline and Spencer, were in Washington today to voice opposition to federal funding for embryonic stem cell research. Dave and Kelly adopted Caroline and Spencer when they were still frozen embryos and brought them to full term. You can read more about this process in the *Decatur Daily Democrat*

.